Explanatory note:

Sales agency agreement: sale of goods; principal delivers

Comments following the numbered paragraphs

1. Definitions

We know nothing about your business, so we cannot provide you with defined terms which precisely describe what you sell. By all means use the search/replace function in your word processor

We use	You decide to change to
Product	Device / Supergram / Radiodata Controller / Range / /
Principal	Superfactors / Jane Smith Ltd

But if you do change the defined word, make sure it applies to every use

You should first decide on the contents of the document, then return to check what definitions are needed and whether they really

2. Interpretation

Leave these items in place unless there is a good reason to edit or remove. Each of these items has been carefully considered in the context of this agreement and has been included for a purpose.

3. Basis of agreement

This paragraph prevents a party from later saying he was relying on some other document or web site or what was said. If other documents are to be relied on, let them be listed

4. Terms of appointment

The terms of appointment are very important. Agree all

5. Agent's general duties

Regulatory approvals are generally the prime responsibility of the principal. However, the person on the ground locally may be far better placed to deal with local bureaucracy.

The agent has been given the obligation to keep up with new law relating to the products. Different jurisdictions take different views as to the importance of consumer protection laws.

This may be the best place to add

6. Agent's duty to sell the Product

It is very important that the terms and conditions of sale are incorporated into the contract. That can only happen if the

7. Commission payment procedure

We have provided a very comprehensive set of terms. Change them as you

8. Rights and duties of the Principal

These points are very basic and probably what most principal's would be happy with in any event. But if

9. Confidential Information

We have included this paragraph because a business has so many secrets which could easily be stolen that some safeguard is sensible. You should consider

10. Intellectual Property

Few business managers appreciate just how much IP is owned by the business. There is an enormous variety of IP rights,

11. No competition

Often called “covenants in restraint of trade”. Such terms are generally not acceptable as contrary to

12. Assignment

Give careful thought to this. It is not an alternative to a “Change of control” provision. This paragraph deals with what happens if one party wants to sell or transfer

Consider the circumstances on both sides which may require an assignment. This paragraph provides a deterrent

We give you these options:

12.1 Neither party may assign the contract

Action: use first option and del the remainder

12.2 Both parties may assign.

Action: delete all paragraph

12.3 Both

Action: leave first sub paragraph only.

12.4 You may assign but not other party.

Action: edit

12.5 A party may

Action: use second alternative and delete first.

13. Termination

The termination notice periods will reflect the difficulty to either or both parties

14. Consequences of termination

We have no comment.

15. Miscellaneous matters

A number of special points. We have identified each of these as

Schedule 1 Marketing plans and reports

To be completed to provided the appropriate information.

Schedule 2 Commission rates

To be completed to provided the appropriate information.

Add other schedules if required.
