Explanatory notes:

Terms and conditions for an Internet service provider (ISP)

General notes:

1. It is essential that user agreements/terms and conditions are drawn to the subscriber's attention. It is therefore important that the registering system is such that a new subscriber has to take some positive step to confirm that he has read the terms and conditions. It is
2. Note that statements made and information given on your web pages will be regarded as "representations". You cannot therefore avoid a /
3. This document is drawn so far as possible to protect the service provider from civil claims in a court. A second consideration is to deter would be claimants from action. There are a number of issues peculiar to any one business,
4. Our document is also based on one simple assumption – that you already have a Privacy Policy operative at your website. If not, kindly buy one from us and install. Kindly visit <http://www.netlawman.co.in/bizdoc/privacy-policy.php> to find one suitable for all purposes.
